CHRISTIE,

It's been great having you in Science class. You're a good friend, and great Hitter.

I hope you get into a good college, and meet alot of good friends. Get high and drink ~~every~~ everynight. Get Jayed, and "Do Bongs".

Adam

"Science punching bag";

Kristey, Have a great time in college, (if you can get into one). Even though we weren't the greatest of friend. I still had fun with you. (cutting your air-headness down). you are full of air. Love

BRYAN LANE

Christie,

Im going to miss you when you go to college and leave me here. I'm glad we became good friends. I'm glad you found Someone that makes you happy & cheerful. Thanks (since) for sticking by me through my problems. Please give me a call this Summer.

Christie, It's been a great 3 yrs, though. It was a little queer at times and I'm sure will be again. Keep your eye out for your roommate!? Come visit us in Iowa!

Christie baby
Got to love Ms. Saunders class!
Big Bitch with congruent triangles.
I'm going to miss her having Smokes with you at the Gods.
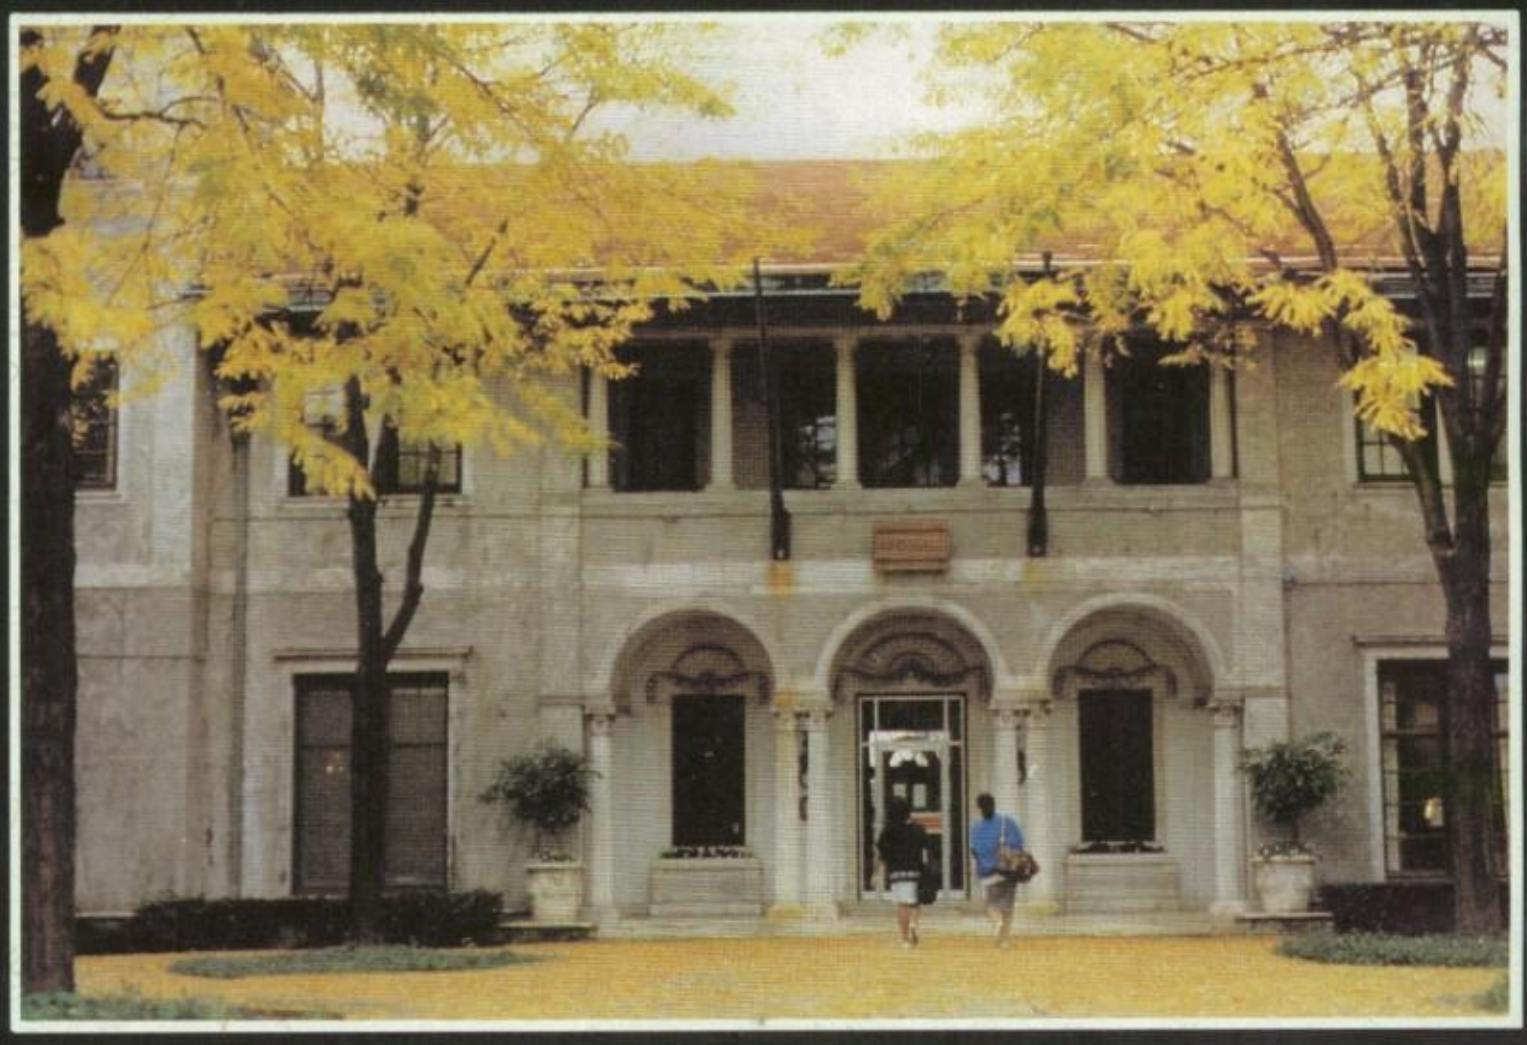
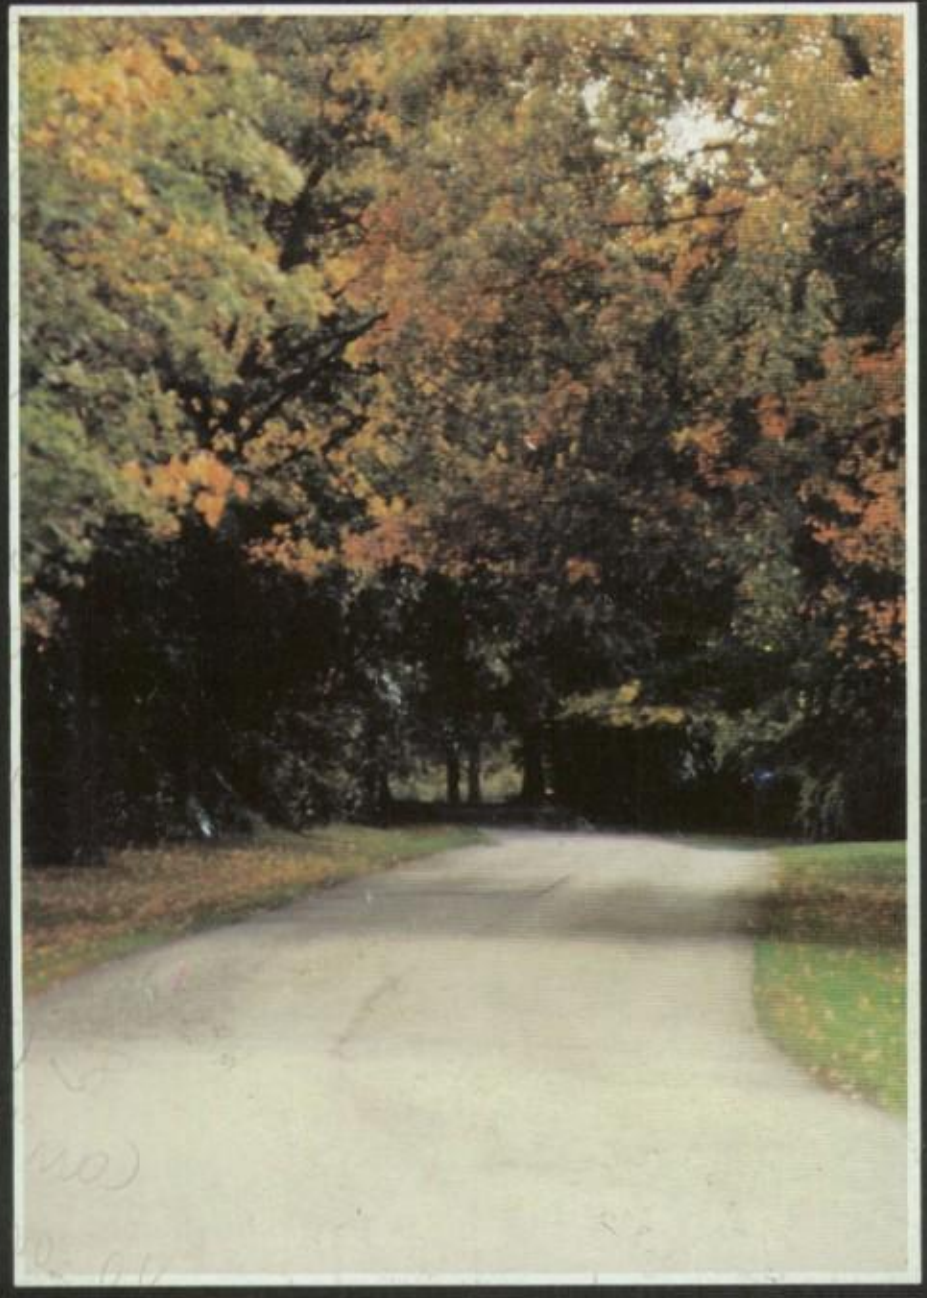
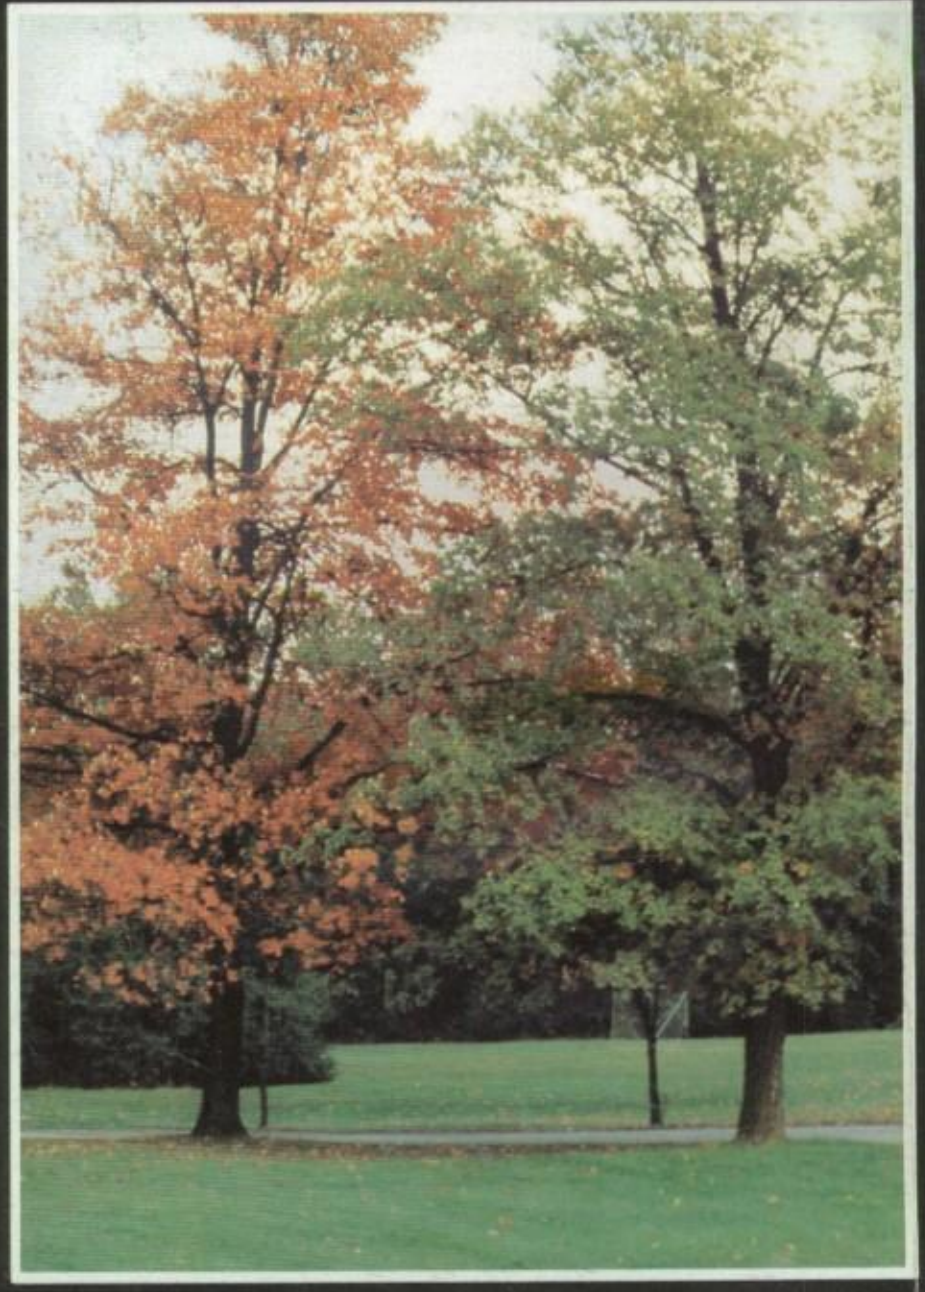
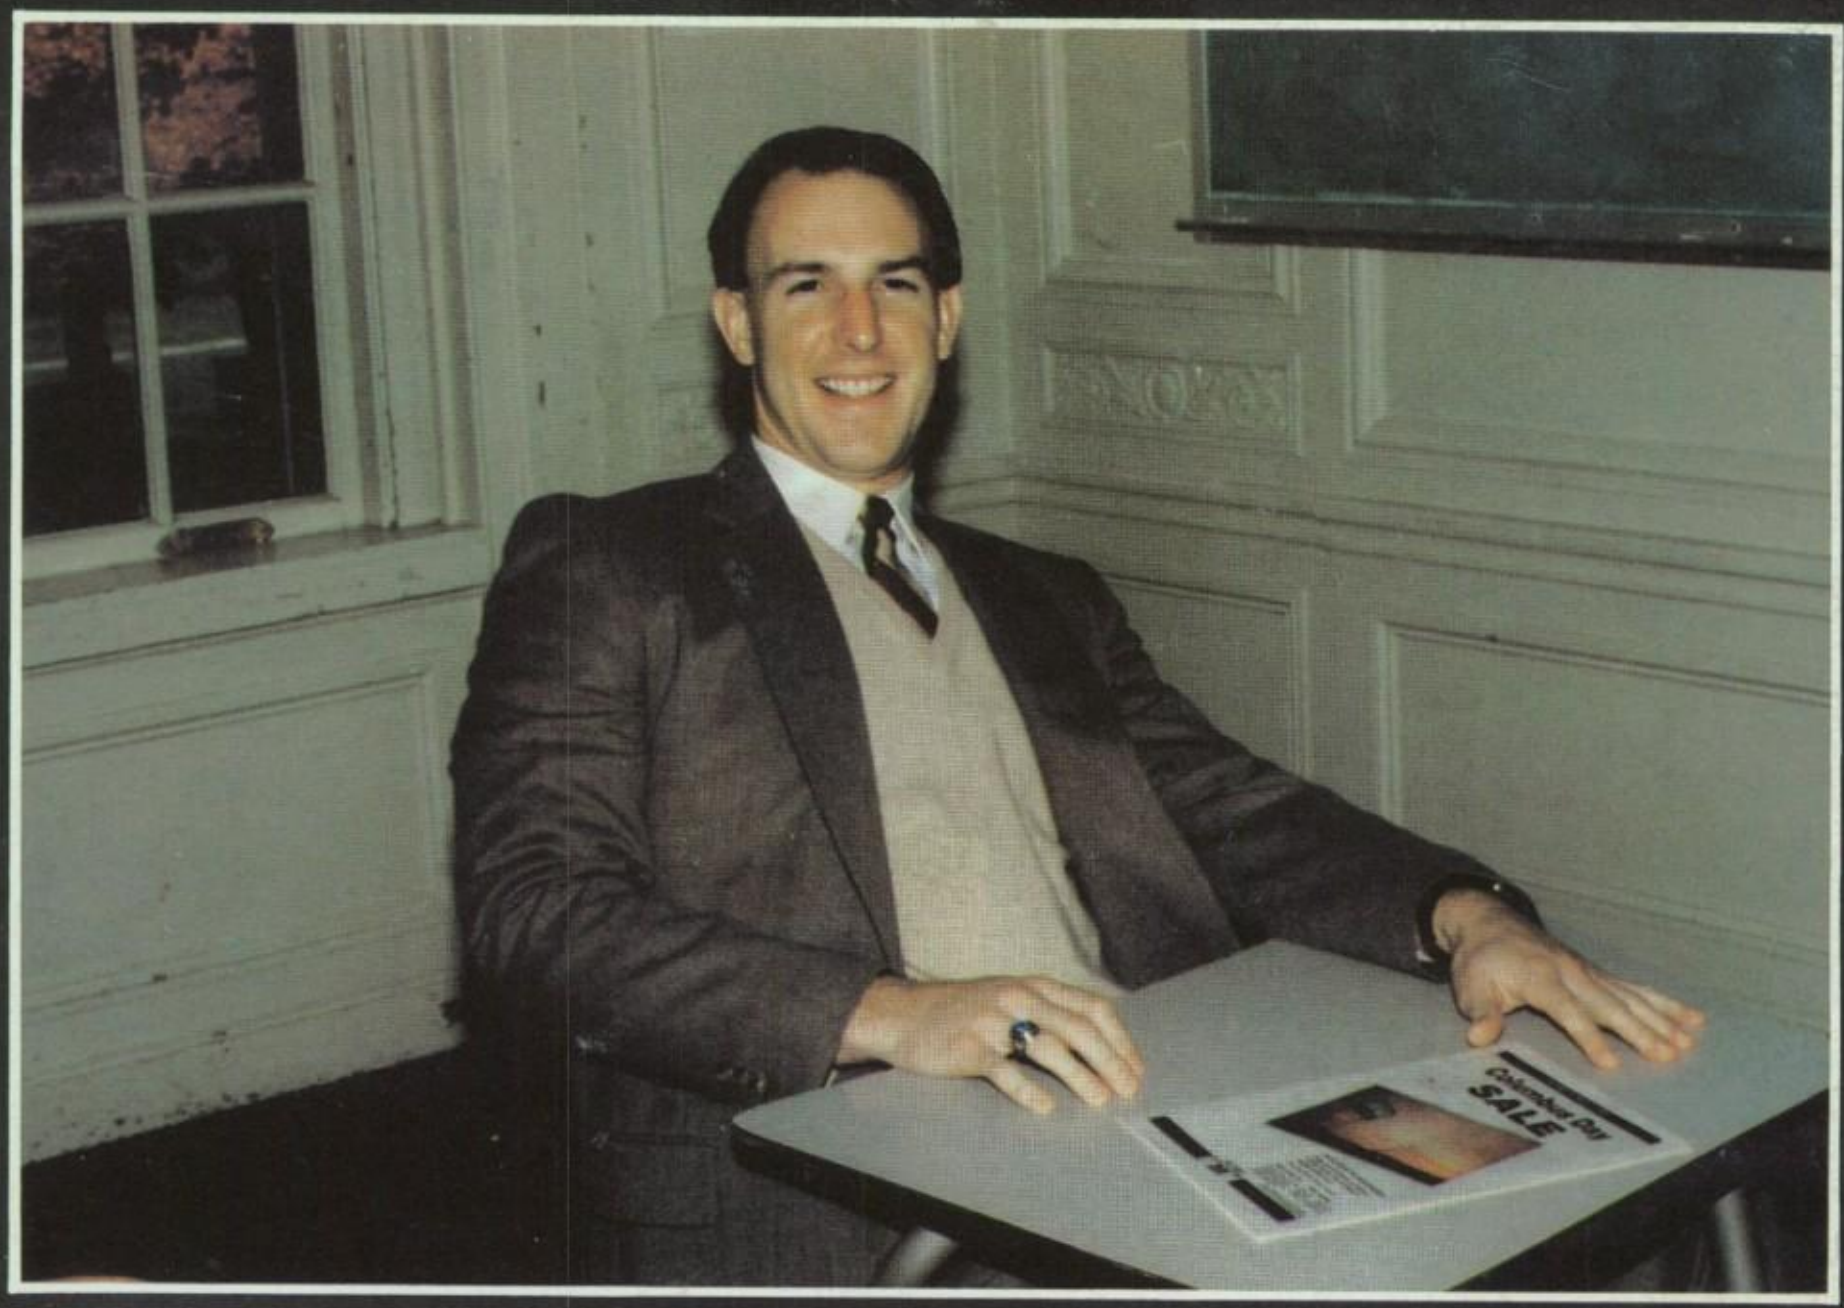
It's been really cool knowing you. Hey, Can I have your silly hairclip! Too bad we & Lane can't beat up on you anymore
Anyway, party a lot in college & watch out for big Vince!
Love Ann









Mr. Wick's relationship with the student body has long been somewhat of a remarkable affair. The man can do no wrong. Wielding an almost charismatic power, he merely has to get up to give an all-school speech, and the crowd literally goes wild. We know the scenario well: insane clapping that drowns out all rational thought, women fainting with desire, and if we didn't have a seating chart, crowds would be rushing the stage. What is it with Mr. Wick? What is his strange power, his most wonderful secret? Obviously, it is more than his cologne, although it probably combines with his natural scents in some kind of chemical frenzy, enough to drive the most callous belly dancer wild. Perhaps his secret is his fearlessness. After all, with a black belt degree, even those who wrestle with him concede defeat from the start. We know he could break our collective femurs, or make wind chimes out of our patellas. LFA could look like a scene from "The Killing Fields" if Mr. Wick really felt like it. But he knows his strength; and he also knows that he doesn't need to prove it. This is the mark of the true martial artist, the true warrior. So, what is it with Mr. Wick? What do those exotic belly dancers know? When we found out he had won the yearbook dedication, we went around campus and took a poll. We asked both students and teachers alike this question: What is it with Mr. Wick? What rare quality, what distilled essence does he have that we all long for? Here are some of the results:
a student: "Ah, that man . . . that man."
a student: "I like Mr. Wick, actually."
a teacher: "Well, he's kind of like Everyman. Underneath his tough exterior, he's a nice, caring, tender, compassionate guy."
a veteran student: "I like it when he gets mad . . . (after considerable word groping) . . . it's both amusing and impressive. I've never enjoyed being hit by a book before."
a student: "The man would make a good Chip." a teacher: "He's a true scholar . . . he keeps the phrase from being anachronistic . . . he upholds the highest moral values of our Western civilization . . ."
a nearby student: "Nay, he and those moral values are synonymous . . ."
another student: "Nay, he defines those values. By his mere presence, he brings a new moral perspective to the campus."
yet another student: "Clean rooms, clean cars, and a clean mind. What more could you uphold?"
one last student: "Semper ubi sub ubi, Mr. Wick!"
One more round of boisterous applause from the class of '88!

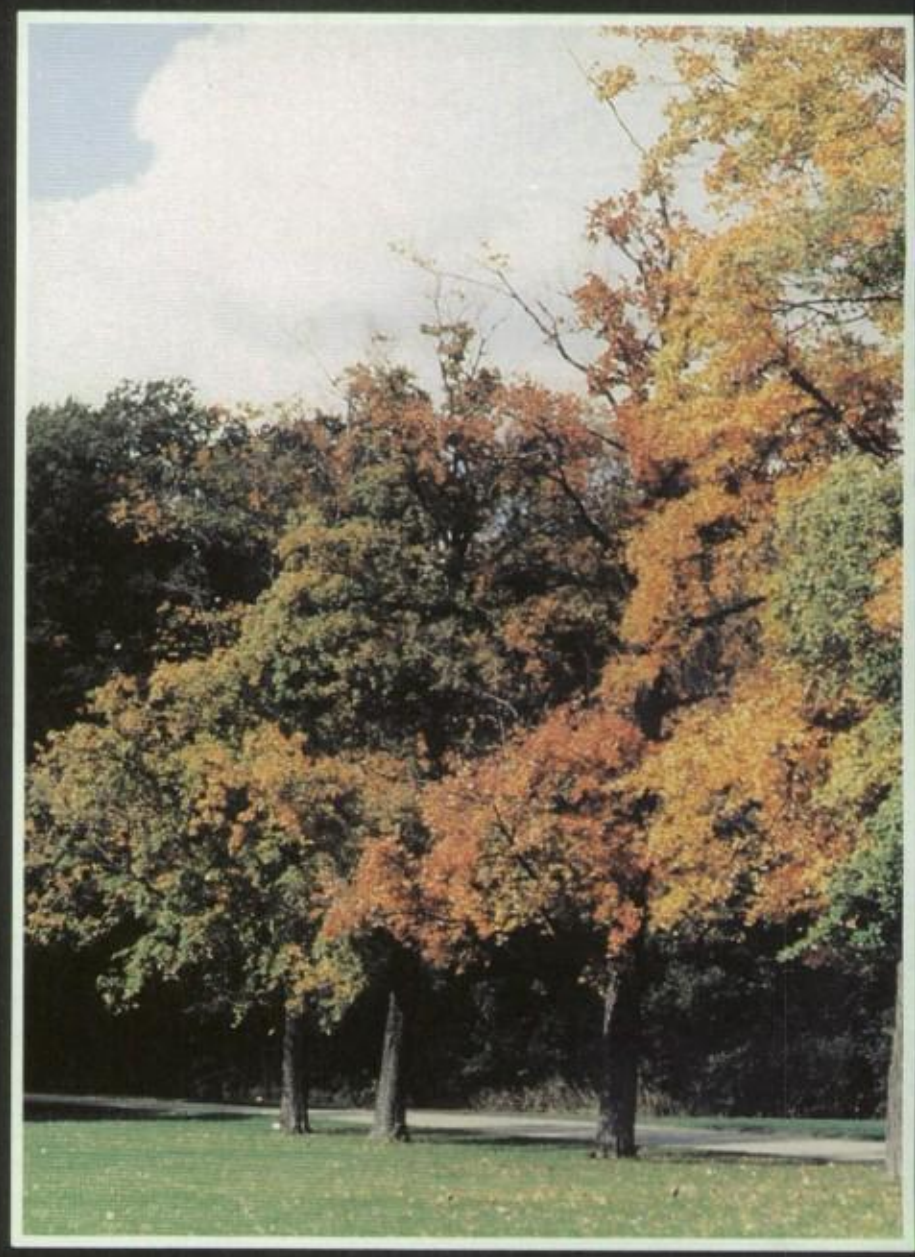
Imagine yourself writing the school thirty, forty, even fifty years hence. The school song still rings in your ears, its rousing refrain entering your most cherished reveries . . . and suddenly you are back, thumbing furiously through your yearbook. You wonder where the faces are now. Those dear friends, those lost loves . . . that sweet place . . . oh, such innocent, happy days! The tears practically give you whiplash. Soon the yearbook is a blur in your eyes and looks like an impressionistic painting. Obeying a command over which you have little control, you whip out your checkbook, and sign a big one over to the Alumni Fund . . . you then think better on it . . . take out the decimal place, put in a comma . . . make it fifty thousand instead of five hundred, and rush to the post office before you can think again.



The school you send it to will not be the same, but that is no matter. Just think, in forty years probably not one employee, not one faculty member will remain. Well, maybe there might be one or two bewizened teachers still roaming the halls, and Harry might still be here, fixture that he is. Certainly no students will remain, no matter how slow they were as learners. Yet, most likely, there will still be continuity. If the bedrock of our civilization and society remains, and if there still is a market for college preparatory education, LFA will still be here. New voices will take up the old song. The old paths from the dorms to Corbin will still be trod, and few weeds will prosper in the smooth soil. The bell in the grass between Corbin and Reid might have a crack in it by then, and teachers will still hold classes there on warm spring days. Move Up Day will still be a symbolic annual game of musical chairs, and Graduation will still see seniors off with hugs and handshakes. And, we hope, the same standards and goals of academic success will still be the carrot to lure students on to attempt their best.

Continuity and change — this is what a school is made of. With its repeating schedule, it is cyclical, like the seasons in a year, or the rings added to a tree. It is maternal, a sheltering, nourishing environment to prepare us for the world. It is paternal, a taskmaster to discipline us for the obstacles ahead. It is fraternal, providing us with friends and opportunities for relationship. It is even internal, for ultimately teachers make us aware of our own inner guide and coach and prepare us for a lifetime of self-directed learning. And finally, in a way, a school is eternal — although the students and teachers eventually move on, the school and its structures stay the same. It is like a whirlpool in a stream. While the water always changes, the whirlpool itself remains the same, a conditioning of the flow of water.

Now imagine the whirlpool to be a tornado, and the schoolhouse being brought to the land of Oz. In some ways, our school experience is similar to what the Scarecrow, the Tin Man, the Cowardly Lion, and Dorothy learned. What they lacked, they already had. They needed self-confidence, and to be aware of their own power. They needed to press on through the dark forests and sleep-inducing poppy fields. And finally, they needed to get over their fears of the mighty, wonderful, wiz-rd himself. High School is a time in our life never to be repeated. There is n old saying: "Happiness is to be ound along the way, not at the end of ne road." These are four years in your fe in which you grow and change ke never before, and never after. it is he psychological changes that we are eferring to here, more than the hysical changes. Only once will the ornado hit, and will you find yourself n such a different land.

The walk between Warner and Corin may be the longest on-campus ommute, but if you like nature, it is ertainly the most interesting. The hape that the maples create over the oad, the air space they describe, is full f abstract possibilities. Perhaps they re only a row of trees, but if you look t them in the right frame of mind, usually after an stimulating day of lasses, you feel the same stillness or hush that you sense when you enter a cathedral. Isn't knowledge immense? Isn't what we don't know even greater? Aren't the mysteries we can never fully know even greater still?

The joy of a yearbook is not so much the moments it captures, but the memories it recalls. The particular moment in the snapshot is gone forever, but if it has any meaning, it recalls a host of associations. The particular arrangements of players on a game field is caught in time, frozen and cross-sectioned, and the viewer must fill in before and after, as the players cluster, move around, regroup, and change. The photo catches the sunlight behind someone's hair, a golden corona, or the long shadow someone makes at sunset, but it is up to the viewer to resurrect the glory or despair, the memory of the game itself.

There are so many times when we've all said, "I wish I had a camera with me now." Then the moment passes, the lighting changes, the scene withdraws. We are left with recollection and the fading traces of vision that we call memories. They are like the shreds of dreams, sometimes barely recalled, and often distorted as we look for patterns in our lives. Memories fade and fracture with the years. When our lives become too much filled with the present and its demands, we need the balance of the past, as well as the vision of the future. We need to restore that ability to see life as a child, with original directness and wonder. Picking up a yearbook is like lifting a kaleidoscope to your eyes, and letting the memories fall into new patterns. Lift this to the sky and give it a shake.

High School, years later. This is what a yearbook is for. After you get it signed by your friends and the people you only began to know, put it away, safe. Then take it out. Don't you remember? A sky so blue over Lake Forest it made you ache inside . . . geese all over the soccer field like a crowd after a game . . . a flash of understanding you had in the classroom . . . the clattering of trains on the Milwaukee Road . . . the friends you made that understood you so well . . . rain dripping all afternoon from the roof of the dorm . . . a time when you were lucky in love . . . a moon so white it looked like it was capped with snow . . . deer grazing by the road in early evening . . . dust kicked up from Harry's truck . . . But I'll stop here. What do you remember? You tell me.

I'd like to thank my parents for giving me this opportunity. After being here for 4 long years, and seeing friends come and go, one learns a lot. I could sit here and initial every friend's name, and personally say good-bye in my own special way. But, I doubt there would be enough room. In the past 4 years, I have seen 2 different administrations, the Bears practice, and met some of the best and most interesting people of my life. These years may not have been my best years, but they are years I'll never forget. Now that it's time to move on and accept new challenges, I'd like to say good-bye to everyone here, especially those who helpled me through the past 4 years.

You are the one person who will end up doing what they want to in life. Don't let one teacher stand in the way of your talent. I will see you at your opening night on Broadway. Have a great life. Shawn — I can still remember my first impression of you. I'm happy we've become friends. I know that I will miss the teasing, bugging, and arguing. I knew you would never spit on me. Good luck in the future. Don't have too much fun in college. Mr. Dolbee — You've been a great advisor and teacher. You made my LFA experience more enjoyable. Thank you. Joy — Eight years is a long time. You have always been there for me. I'm going to miss our talks about everything. Remember Ksmogn? We definitely has some fun times. I don't know how I would have gotten through LFA without you and your positive attitude. Best of luck in the future. I will miss you! Bill — We finally made it. I would never have survived without you. I would still be in the library. I will always remember the good times we've had. The past two years have been the greatest. I hope you had some fun in-between the hours of homework. I will never forget you. I love you!

The Glass in the Field

A short time ago some builders, working on a studio in Connecticut, left a huge square of plate glass standing upright in a field one day. A goldfinch flying swiftly across the field struck the glass and was knocked cold. When he came to he hastened to his club, where an attendant bandaged his head and gave him a stiff drink. "What the hell happended?" asked the sea gull. "I was flying across a meadow when all of a sudden the air crystallized on me," said the goldfinch. The sea gull and a hawk and a eagle all laughed heartily. A swallowed listened gravely. "For fifteen years, fledgling and bird, I've flown this country," said the eagle, "'and I assure you that there is no such thing as air crystallizing. Water, yes; air, no." "You were probably struck by a hailstone," the hawk told the goldfinch. "Or he may have had a stroke," said the sea gull. "What do you think swallow?" "Why I — I think maybe the air crystallized on him," said the swallow. The large birds laughed so loudly that the goldfinch became annoyed and bet them each a dozen worms that they couldn't follow the same course he had flown across the field without encountering the hardened atmosphere. They all took his bet; the swallow went along to watch. The sea gull, the eagle, and the hawk decided to fly together over the route the goldfinch indicated. "You come, too," they said to the swallow. "I — I well, no," said the swallow. "I don't think I will." So the three large birds took off together and they hit the glass together and they were all knocked cold.

The Scotty Who Knew Too Much

Several summers ago, there was a Scotty who went to the country for a visit. He decided that all the farm dogs were cowards, because they were afraid of a certain animal that had a white stripe down its back. "You are a pussy-cat and I can lick you," he said to the farm dog who lived in the house where the Scotty was visiting. "I can lick the animal with the white stripe, too. Show him to me." "Don't you want to ask any questions about him?" said the farm dog. "Naw, said the scotty." "You ask the questions."

So the farm dog took the Scotty into the woods and showed him the white-striped animal and the Scotty closed in on him, growling and slashing. It was all over in a moment and the Scotty lay on his back. When he came to, the farm dog said, "What happened?" "He threw vitriol," said the Scotty, "but he never laid a glove on me."

A few days later the farm dog told the Scotty there was another animal all the farm dogs were afraid of. "Lead me to him," said the Scotty. "I can lick anything that doesn't wear horseshoes." "Don't you want to ask any questions about him?" said the farm dog. "Naw," said the Scotty. "Just show me where he hangs out." So the farm dog led him to the little animal. "A clown," said the Scotty, "a pushover," and he closed in, leading with his left, and exhibiting some fancy footwork. In less than a second the Scotty was flat on his back. When he woke up, the farm dog was pulling quills out of him. "What happened?" said the farm dog. "He pulled a knife on me," said the Scotty, "but at least I have learned how you fight out here in the country, and now I am going to beat you up." He closed in on the farm dog, holding his nose to ward off the vitriol and covering his eyes to keep out the knives. The Scotty couldn't see or smell his opponent, and he was so badly beaten that he had to be taken back to the city and put in a nursing home.

Moral: It is better to ask some of the questions than know all the answers.

— James Thurber

Mom & Hunter, thanks for all the support you've given me throughout these difficult (to say the least) high school years. Your patience and understanding has made all the difference in helping me to realize all the responsibilities I have to face in life. A few years ago, I thought you two were really stupid. It's amazing what you've learned between then and now.

To the friends I've made over the years, good luck in all you do in your lives. I've had a lot of fun and it's all because of you. Thanks for putting up with me. I'll see you all later and try to keep in touch.

Juniors: Have a fun year. Good luck with college applications. HA!

Sophomores: Get good grade in your junior year. For some reason, they're important.

Freshmen: Who cares (Just kidding)

I'm sure there's more to say, but, for once, I'm at a loss for words. I think I'll quit while I'm ahead. BYE!!

The Unicorn in the Garden (Part I)

Once upon a sunny morning a man who sat in a breakfast nook looked up from his scrambled eggs to see a white unicorn with a golden horn quitely cropping the roses in the garden. The man went up to the bedroom where his wife was still asleep and work her. "There's a unicorn in the garden," he said. "Eating roses." She opened one unfriendly eye and looked at him. "The unicorn is a mythical beast," she said, and turned her back on him. The man walked slowly downstairs and out into the garden. The unicorn was still there; he was now browsing among the tulips. "Here, unicorn," said the man, and he pulled up a lily and gave it to him. The unicorn ate it gravely. With a high heart, because there was unicorn in his garden, the man went upstairs and roused his wife again. "The unicorn," he said, "ate a lily." His wife sat up in bed and looked at him, coldly. "You are a booby," she said, "and I am going to have you put in the booby-hatch." The man, who had never liked the words "booby" and "booby-hatch," and who liked them even less on a shining morning when there was a unicorn in the garden, thought for a moment. "We'll see about that," he said. He walked over to the door. "He has a golden horn in the middle of his forehead," he told her. Then he went back to the garden to watch the unicorn; but the unicorn had gone away. The man sat down among the roses and went to sleep.

The Unicorn in the Garden (Part II)

As soon as the husband had gone out of the house, the wife got up and dressed as fast as she could. She was very excited and there was a gloat in her eye. She telephoned the police and she telephoned a psychiatrist; she told them to hurry to her house and bring a straight-jacket. When the police and the psychiatrist arrived they sat down in chairs and looked at her with great interest. "My husband," she said, "saw a unicorn this morning." The police looked at the psychiatrist and the psychiatrist looked at the police. "He told me it ate a lily," she said. The psychiatrist looked at the police and the police looked at the psychiatrist. "He told me it had a golden horn in the middle of its forehead," she said. At a solemn signal from the psychiatrist, the police leaped from their chairs and seized the wife. They had a hard time subduing her, for she put up a terrific struggle, but they finally subdued her. Just as they got her into the straight-jacket, the husband came into the house.

"Did you tell your wife you saw a unicorn?" asked the police. "Of course not," said the husband. "The unicorn is a mythical beast." "That's all I wanted to know," said the psychiatrist. "Take her away. I'm sorry, sir, but your wife is as crazy as a jay bird." So they took her away, cursing and screaming, and shut her up in an institution. The husband lived happily ever after.

The Little Girls and the Wolf

One afternoon a big wolf waited in a dark forest for a little girl to come along carrying a basket of food. "Are you carrying that basket of food to your grandmother?" asked the wolf. The little girl said yes, she was. So the wolf asked her where her grandmother lived and the little girl told him and he disappeared into the woods.

When the little girl opened the door of her grandmother's house she saw that there was somebody in bed with a nightcap and nightgown on. She had approached no nearer than twenty-five feet from the bed when she saw that it was not her grandmother but the wolf, for even in a nightcap a wolf does not look any more like your grandmother than the Metro-Goldwyn lion looks like Calvin Coolidge. So the little girl took an automatic out of her basket and shot the wolf dead.

Moral: It is not so easy to fool little girls nowadays as it used to be.

To the time when all we could do was laugh, and also the tears that could always follow the laughter. To the nightly talks and the inside jokes that were created within a world of purple people, green monsters, nuclear weapons, and a Canadian named Fred. To the 5-baby-oysters, the sunsets, stars, and macaroni and cheese found within a secluded world of valleys, antiques, and pig farmers. Galena forever!! Also to forbidden love. I know now that it is better to forget and smile than to remember and be sad. And to all the conversations when rational explanations seldom eased feelings. To all the learning, loving, and growing. I would much rather leave the memories untouched by too many words . . . words seem so inadequate. I would like to say good-bye with this:

"The most visible creators I know are those artists who medium is life itself. The ones who express the inexpressible without brush, hammer, clay, or guitar. They neither paint nor sculpt — their medium is being. Whatever their presence touches has increased life. They see, and don't have to draw. They are the artists of being alive . . ."

MC, We'll have to go for a ride in a real car. JM, It's been a great time the last 2 years, ripping on Dave, let's keep it up. BP, So you think my uncle's ugly? Well, I think you're ugly! I hope you have a good time in college and don't get beat at thumb wrestling. VK, You got to be the biggest PV I know, but keep it up! JC, You want to do any feltchin? KK, I can't wait till the wedding. P McD, I Hope you can make it one more year. JK, It's really hot in here! Tebh, you've got a "terrifick" job. JL, Got any dip? Come on, only take a little. SN, It's been great working out, too bad you're a wimp! No Sammy, I don't have any food or the bear. BC, Did Troy really exist? MR. W wants to know. GN, Good luck in the future. Hope you don6t get hurt. Muffin, We'll have to go surfing. KN, Maybe I'll see ya at NIV sometime, keep parting. AB, You're crazzy, come see me in McHenry sometime. To the young men left at LFA, Remember to wear your raincoats! That's all I've got to say to you.

First, though words will never be enough, thank you mom, for all the help, encouragement, laughter, and love you gave so unselfishly to see me through. I LOVE YOU!!! Thanks also to all the family, GPa, GMa, Ocean, UBob, UTom, UGary, AKathy, ASharron, and 3D's, for your strength and support of my adventure at LFA. To DTR, DMV, & JAD, you three are the best friends a guy could ever have, you're truly NOX! To the LFA gang: JOE T — well best friend, we made it here, now let's go do some more wild things and celebrate!! KRIS — Mon confident — get out of your hole, stop hiding behind that switchboard, you're starting to smile! We'll stir up more trouble yet! NELL & BILL — you two are also great friends, from Bio, to Phys, to the Library, I'm surprised we haven't been banned for talking so much (I really must study!) AMY — Bon vivre, BILL's right, your movie will be a smash! ERIC — More than just crosswordheads, I'm glad I got to know you this year, friend! BILL F — Hey 4APer, stay intense! MEGAN — Thanks for flexible deadlines on quotes! JAKE — The field guide to bird calls? RENEE — Thanks for that short cut, and being a friend! Austin — Oh no, another lab! JOY — How come you never spell anything wrong? Have fun! JIM — perpetual motion machine! MAEVE — I drive fast, but you were right behind me! ALEXIS — you're crazy! And you made Bio insane! KLEE — BUDDIES TIL THE END! Watch out, I might send a white hole your way! MR/GH/JB/KB/HL — you guys are wild! I know I've left out some, but you're not forgotten! ALL OF YOU HAD BETTER KEEP IN TOUCH! (I'M GOING TO MISS YOU.) BECAUSE I DON'T JUST WANT TO READ ABOUT YOU IN THE MORNING PAPER!!! I want to also thank those teachers who added much to my life. Mr. Dolbee — thanks for all the help, advice, and history. Mr. Roberts and Mr. Spoor for keeping English alive, and, of course, Mr. Champion, Mrs. Louch, Doc. Stein, and Mrs. Savage for making science and math very lernable (and fun). LFA — THANKS MUCH!!! And since a quote is not really a quote without a quote (or so they say!), here's one from Led Zeppelin's "Kashmir", nice, and somewhat cryptic: "O let the sun beat down upon my face, the stars that fill my dreams, I am a traveller of both time and space to be where I have been."

Mom and Dad: Thanx for a long hard five years; let's hope it is the last one: I love you. James — ENGLAND WAS A BLAST!!! "COME ON WALES", 20 dollars for a . . ., what a night that was. The leaf project was the best school night we'll ever have. St. Valentines Day Massacre, Let's go for a smoke. Denver, road trip, we have to go. Many more good times to come. Shambles and "Don't Leave Me This Way" Missy, I'm glad things worked out as planned, I've enjoyed it — The straw and everything. Thanx for being a good friend and other things. 2nd chance, don't blow it this time. LOVE YA. Chris — You're a lifesaver, don't forget it. Quit ashing your cigarette; you'll get cancer. No, don't play it again, Leroy's dead. Mike — we're timing it, should we go to the SAT, nah. Just one more cigarette. Thanx for a good time, whatever man. TURBO 140. Brad — Hey, dad's coming. We had fun parting, and we always have more to do. John — It's Miller Genuine Draft, Bud can, not bad, huh, keep parting. Molly and Heather — Take care next year, and tell Ashley to hush. Jenny D. — Gwanna, Jerome and all the others. I enjoyed your company the past few years, take care. Steph — it was interesting, God knows we tried. Matt — Many good laughs, take care in whatever you may do. Maggie — oooohhh, it was fun, look after Mike; we know he needs it. J.H. — What can I say, it was interesting; take care. Willis — "Oh my God" — isn't that how you say it. Christie — It was fun knowing you; we enlightened many people at Hoagie Hut, see ya. Mr. Quaid — thanks for helping me out my last year, Broomball. TO THE CLASS OF '88: IT WAS WORTH 5 YEARS, thanx everyone for making my last one the best. ADIOS LFA!!

Mom and Dad: Thanks. I really appreciate all you've done. Matt — Where to begin? The countless hamburgers and fries in Adolphson's study hall, the handy wipe moistened disposable towlettes as toll fair, and of course Henry's van. It's been a good time. Dean — You taught me how to appreciate and expand my interests in music, you've also been a great friend, thanks. Steven — St. Lewis? No, Nathen Johnson," how were we ever able to stand each other since freshman year? Jerry — The dog from Hell gladly would have killed you for a bowl of stew. Bill — Thanks for the guitar lessons but it doesn't look like I'm ever going to get Blackbird right. Hot Dog Henry — We could have done a lot more to your van if the seats weren't bolted down. Sean — I still have the best paper airplane design, and I haven't forgotten about what happened with them in Wick's class. Timothy — I'm going to miss singing in left field with you. C.C. — Thanks for nothing. John — I'll never forget sophomore year or the "Is this a dagger which I see before me" hat. Take it easy my friend.

Mom and Dad — I can't believe how fast these past four years have flown by. I love you both very much. Mike — I'm washing my hands and feet of it, you can have it back. D.F. — We've had a four-year ride, mate. People should envy us, I envy us. Do you think this is our last waltz? TAP J.F. — "I don't know . . . that's probably the stupidest thing I've ever heard.' Travis Bikle. J.C. — "Birds, Bloke, Bullocks." JP & BF — It's been fun dining with you both. JK & CS — Keep in touch, guys. So long everybody! — "Where I'm bound, I can't tell, but good-bye is too good a word, so I'll just say FARE THEE WELL!: Bob Dylan. Thanks for making these past four years bearable. Hey Campbell — there is so little you know about pickled herring. Take care of Mr. Wick . . . he is sans wambam. "Those who can do, teach; and those who can't teach, teach gym." Woody Allen. "The secret of life is enjoyin' the passage of time. Since we're only here for a while, might as well show some style, give us a smile isn't it a lovely ride." James Taylor.

Mom and Dad: Thanx for your support and encouragement these many years. Thanx also to the Hodgkins and the faculty for the second chance. Cupic: Dude, she's got no pulse! Should I take 2 more? I've lost my wallet! DF: How you dooin? It's time to put on some Hank and Binge. JK: Is this a dagger I see before me? It hurts. Wavey: As I write this, we are not speaking, but you are and always will be my partner in oh so active like. CB: Wednesday is Miller Time! A 12-pack and $3 left for smokes. JF: There is no gift like the gift of meal. We're all humanary stew. Yes. MH: It's out the window with you! KH: I still bellles! The Lennox will never be the same. BC: Harassing Wick — the new national pastime. KH: Neurotic ottoman though you may be, I like you like the way you are, so don't change. CS: I am hoping for a June wedding. You're a really special girl. Don't forget it. Same goes for you EF. Someone's gotta keep those two in line. JB: My, my, what lovely pie we're having! 5 pounds. JT: My fellow Evanston Alumni, being a crazed sicko 'aint so bad. Beaubs: DW + JD — A match made in heaven. VK + JC: What do you expect? After all, it is Genuine Draft. Can man live by hoagies alone? JD: You make a fine queen. So who are you really going to Christmas Formal with? SW: Because of Club Spuds. Responsibility is a catch-22. JS: As a matter of fact, I do like power. ST: The midnite break-in — what thieves we are. Scooter Pies — JK: As of this writing, I still don't have my shirt. What did you really use it for?? Deano: Fridays with the Burger King dude. How was that vermouth? LUD. BP: We were cheated of our crowns. CB: How many years has it been? How many beers? MC: Aren't you gonna eat your French Toast? That would stink. I have lost control of my face!! KH: When the phone rings at 12:30 on a Saturday nite, you'll know its me. MAAATT!: We shall be roomies again many years from now, but in a much toastier place than this. They will make us eat scooter-pies until we vomit uncontrollably. A knock on the door . . . it's HIM!! It's been thoroughly demented. MR, MC, DF, JF, CB, VK, & JC — You dudes are too much trouble for your own good. Take it easy and stay heavily sedated. MC, MH, KH, CS, EF, & JD — I love you all more than you know. It's been one hell of a time folks. I'm whiskey-sent and Hell-bound.

Mom — "We don't sell local books." "Sister." "Why don't you like it?" Thanks for all of your love and support. I couldn't have done it without you. Dick, thanks for your support through these years. Can we get rid of Henry now? Love S. R. Jen — Hinchy whoo . . . clunk! Written up? ccchhh over. Mac, concerts, could you turn upside down for me? Katie — sorry about . . . him . . . your hair looks like a zebra's mane, no — really — wild kingdom — stay cool at college. Sara — no time is a good time. Ride much? What's your I.Q.? Brother's friends, knife or catsup bottle. S.N. — Stevie N. — no voice. Time for cocktails. That's the ladies room. WRONG SIDE OF THE ROAD!!! Sir Chandler — good oral report. What are you talking about? Locking doors. Couldn't get any smaller. Prom '87. Dinner till 10:30 P.M. What are you thinking? Lost in your hometown! Map upside down. Good movie selection. Little house. I will never forget you.

Ms. Datesman — Thank you for always being there. I am proud to be a four year advisee.

For the friends that I missed — I won't forget you. And remember: The Psychedelic Furs Rule!!!

Mom, Dad, + Mark: Thanks for all that you have given me in the past three years. Thanks for being there for me, and sticking with me. Jason, it's been fun knowing you these three years. We have had our share of good times. Garret, we had fun this year with our Jeeps. We both agree that they are the best means of transportation — even better than GREEN Mustangs. Jacob: Good luck to you in whatever you do. Hope that you and the guest bed take care in college. Don't lose that Jums III tape, it could be a hit someday. Sung Soo: Don't worry — You'll make it just fine in college. Lyssie: I'm going to miss you a lot. you really are a special friend. Sometimes you scare me, but I can live with that. Stay in touch Lys. Crego, it has been really fun being your friend. You have made my year pretty exciting. I really enjoyed teaching you how to ice skate: after three years, I finally accomplished something here. Take care, Lisa, and stay sweet. Muffin, Cathy, Em (cheesehead), Courtney, Julie: You guys are a lot of fun, I'll miss all of you guys. Keep in touch. Meredith & Jen: You guys are pretty crazy, but I like you. Meredith, I guess I have to like you, you're a fellow Hoosier. Jen, you're one half of the wimp connection, so I feel sorry for you. Belita, almost last, but far from least. I don't know where to begin. I guess I could start by saying thanks for being there for me. Things didn't always go so well, but we made the best of it. You are truly a special person to me and you always will be. You have been by far one of my best and closest friends. Take care of kid, I'll miss you a lot. Mr. Dolbee & Ms. Peecher: You guys are great. You have made my boarding life here a lot easier. I'll miss you guys. Mr. Wick: Loosen up and enjoy those 16 valves. Mr. Edgcomb: You're an all right guy even though you're an art teacher. Mr. Quaid: Take care. It's been fun. Well LFA, I guess that this is good-bye. It's been fun, but not enough, so I guess it's time for me to move on in life. See you dear old LFA. I'm gone, so take care everyone!!!

Mom and Dad — Without you, none of this would have been possible. All of your support helped lots too! It's hard to believe four years are almost up. Nell — What can I say to you that I haven't already said — I LOVE YOU!!! You were always there when I needed you most. I promise not to use the "S" word anymore. You are the best and I hope you stay that way. Shawn — Dude — It's been great having you as a friend for the past three years! Terre Haute isn't all that bad, well maybe it is. Someday I hope to look up and see one of your buildings. Best of luck always! Joy — Glad we were friends this year; glad we had some laughs at lunch with you and Shawn. Too bad Winston isn't here anymore. Oh, well. Hope you have a great life. Marth . . . I mean Kathy — No, I haven't taken any pep pills lately. When are your parents leaving? Don't get into too much trouble in the future. Have fun throughout life! Belita — the last four years have been fun. No, I didn't cheat on the Bio. test on the pig. History is so confusing, but we are getting AP credit. See you around. Have lots of fun. Henrietta — That outfit is . . . um . . . interesting. Classes in college won't be the same without your babbling. But seriously, I hope life is good to you! John C — Too bad we didn't become better friends. Hope you and Annie had fun these years. Hope you have fun in college! Amy R. — Someday, you will direct a movie. It will be a success, and a great achievement for a woman (just kidding!). Advisory was inspiring, too bad Unity isn't in it anymore (Yea!). Have a great life, and have fun above all else. John I. — You and Alexis were great together — only kidding. She finally hates me. When you invent your ion engine, call me, so I know to move. Hope you are a success in life! See ya around. LFA — four years in one school, I must be crazy! I'm finally out of here! Good-bye to all!

September in the darkness and the world I've known; all fading past me into peace . . . Gotta Go. Don't go. Gotta Go. Bye Fred!

The Seal Who Became Famous

A seal who lay basking on a large, smooth rock said to himself: all I ever do is swim. None of the other seals can swim any better than I can, he reflected, but, on the other hand, they can all swim just as well. The more he pondered the monotony and uniformity of his life, the more depressed he became. That night he swam away and joined a circus.

Within two years the seal had become a great balancer. He could balance lamps, billiard cues, medicine balls, and anything else you gave him. When he read in a book a reference to the Great Seal of the United States, he thought it meant him. In the winter of his third year as a performer he went back to the large, smooth rock to visit his friends and family. He gave them the Big Town stuff right away: the latest slang, liquor in a golden flask, zippers, a gardenia in his lapel. He balanced for them everything on the rock there was to balance, which wasn't much. When he had run his repertory, he asked the other seals if they could do what he had done and they all said no. "O.K.," he said. "Let's see you do something I can't do." Since the only thing they could do was swim, they all plunged off the rock into the sea. The circus seal plunged right after them, but he was so hampered by his smart city clothes, including a pair of seventeen-dollar shoes, that he began to founder at once. Since he hadn't been in swimming for three years, he had forgot what to do with his flippers and tail, and he went down for the third time before the other seals could reach him. They gave him a simple but dignified funeral.

Moral: Whom God has equipped with flippers should not monkey around with zippers.

Mom, Dad, Tim, and Kate — Thanks so much for all your love and support. Mom — My friendship with you means the world to me, I love you so much. Dad — In spite of all our disagreements, you're the greatest father to me. I always said, "I'm the rebel!" Tim, you're the best bro I could ever ask for. I envy you. Hey, your little sister is Dartmouth bound. Kate, I'll cherish our friendship forever. I've watched you grow stronger every day, and, just remember, a handicap is just a minor handicap. We will take one day at a time. To my three best: Jen, Bets, and Jenny, friendships like these don't just happen. I'll never be able to say good-bye to you guys. To my second half — Sis, we have a bond no one will ever be able to break. You're one of a kind! "You just call out my name, and you know wherever I am, I'll come running to see you again, you've got a friend." James Taylor, I luv you! Bets, you're the greatest buddy! Our friendship is everlasting. Thanks for all your support with "T". You're always there for me. Jenny W. no good-byes for us, we may be D.V. bound! Cheers to "T" and "J". Lets keep our promises. "Time to eat, ha!" All three of you, let's save the emotions for now, promise, Sis, no tears. Boarder buddies, you guys will always be in my heart, we've all laughed and cried, you're all sisters to me. Barrington buddies, you guys are great. Zaid — You're awesome! I'll miss you, dancin' buddy. Mark S. — there's something I really like about you. The sign of Leo — Aug. 15th. You're a great tease! Brian H. — I'm going to miss you so much, "I'll give my hair to you." Brad — "Fatty" "moo-moo" thanks. Vince, you're one guy that can really make me laugh! Cupic — My B.F. will always love you! I love you too! Bartlett - "Sorry!" Alexis: All I can say babe is: "Happy Halloween." I'll visit you at UCLA. I'll miss our close friendship! You were always there to make me laugh, love ya! How could I forget? Thomas C. Tingle, "T", you're my beginning and end. My life began with you. You mean more to me than life itself. The Proper Gander

Not so very long ago there was a very proper gander. He was strong and smooth and beautiful and spent most of his time singing to his wife and children. One day somebody who saw him strutting up and down in his yard and singing remarked, "There is a very proper gander." An old hen overheard this and told her husband about it that night in the roost. "They said something about propaganda," she said. "I have always suspected that," said the rooster, and he went around the barnyard the next day telling everybody that the very fine gander was a dangerous bird, more likely a hawk in gander's clothing. A small brown hen remembered a time when at a great distance she had seen the gander talking with some hawks in the forest. "They were up to no good," she said. A duck remembered that a gander had once told him he did not believe in anything. "He said to hell with the flag, too," said the duck. A guinea hen recalled that she had once seen somebody who looked very much like the gander throw something that looked a great deal like a bomb. Finally everybody snatched up sticks and stones and descended on the gander's house. He was strutting in his front yard, singing to his wife and children. "There he is!" everybody cried. "Hawk-lover! Unbeliever! Flag-hater! Bomb-thrower!" So they set upon him and drove him out of the country.

Moral: Anybody who you or your wife thinks is going to overthrow the government by violence must be driven out of the country.

THANX mom and dad for giving me the opportunity to go to this fine institution. Well, I finally made it. After five years in High School, I am going to graduate. Hey Brian H. Thanks for being a friend. Remember all the times. Beer, Brats, + Babes — the only way to go. The Wisconsin trip was great, remember the immortal words of Billy Brown. G.V.A. will live forever. Come on guys, let's go party and play some violin. Hey Dave — You should have been here last year. Welcome to the G.V.A. We had some great times, I still think Chuck is an idiot, but tolerable. Let's tie him up. Where's the G.V.A. salute? Hey Beaubien "Who's Nick anyway", and let's "Buckle up those bonnets and go right at 'em." Brian — Get a real car, like mine. Let's go get Joe, he knows how to party. Hey guys, where's the violin? It was stolen. Thank GOD Dave bought a new one. Hey, where did all those dancing Teddy Bears come from? It must have been that GREEN DRAGON at the DEAD SHOW. June 24, 25, and 26. Tickets for all three shows. Alls I did was "Eat, DRINK, and see Jerry." Hesbol, I never got to mention you at Stevenson, but you're a great friend. Thanks for everything, especially the party times. "They raise the blade, they make the change, they rearrange me til I'm sane." Sean's song '87. Hey, don't Bogart that thing. It's my turn! Hesbol — Bring your tree and get over here! There's only thing left I've got to say: Eric, Brian, Dave, Joe, Bill, Kim, and to the whole class of 1988, "This BUDS for you."

Live every day as if you'll live forever,
Live every day as if you'll die tomorrow.

"Did you ever wake up to find a day that broke up your mind; destroying your motion of secular times? — It's just that demon life that's got you in its swat." "We've got all the answers, and we've got lovely dancers too; there is nothing left you have to do, on with the show good health to you." — The Rolling Stones "So what are you doing after school?" Free adobe huts for sale — Two people. Maeve! My best. Denton — You should have kept my car in the direction it was heading and never looked back. Dean — Real thanx for the ears and taste. Vid — Monster table art trinity for the duration. "The sign said long haired, funky people need not apply" and "After all is said and done, I'm gonna move while it's still fun. I'm going to walk before they make me run." — K.R. Wait, what time are they coming home? Flick . . . Crackle . . . Here, Marc — The Traks. M.H.; As long as the guitar plays. W.P.: Your markers work better. Wardy, what a mess. Freeman: Oh yes and some limes, no not soy sauce — a meal. M.R.,J.M. — Goodnight. S.V.,J.B.,J.B. Whoever and wherever, thanx for letting me be there, I have appreciated much from many. Nobody ever reads these quotes as much as you spend doing 'em. So, yea and stuff. "Naanouweenanana." I.H.T.F.T.P.I.I. Bateman . . . Ha! Last: Mom and Dad, one thing for sure is, I don't know why or how, but thanks, I guess — How much do I owe you? Don't worry, it's in there somewhere, and hiding was the easy part. XXXX Gonna be the captain of the Enterprise — let's meet and have a baby now — B52's. TENNIS, YEARBOOK

Things I have learned in the past four years:

1. Always read the directions.
2. Never believe everything you hear.
3. It's not what you know, but who you know.
4. Never generalize.
5. If it's too good to be true, it probably isn't.
6. Never wear white shoes with dark hosiery.
7. Accept things for what they are, not for what you want them to be.
8. Silver lame is a fabric nature never knew existed.
9. Sometimes life just isn't fair, but your problems are not necessarily the worst.
10. Longevity will get you nowhere.

Carlyle, for all we have been through there is only one phrase to sum it up: "Love is only chatter, friends are all that matter." Between Boo-Boo, Ol' Nepoleon, Mr. Rogers, Eric, Ed, Todd, Glenn(both), David D., David F., Swiss Chris, Doug, Wince, Mike M.,-and even Spud Denton, I'm surprised we are not nuns. Heaven help us! Only true friends can stick together like we have.

Momma and Poppa: You gave birth to me, you raised me, you loved me, but the adventure has only just begun! Words cannot express my gratitude or emotion. I love you guys. Hey, Malory: you big ditz, you got quite a rep to beat with me gone, but please don't turn out like I did. Take care of Bucky for me. OK, I love you Sis, don't ever forget it. Campbell: Relax, it was only 12 months with me. Thanks anyway. I'll teach you how to play tennis someday. Coach Mike: I owe you too much to ever repay, thanks for being there. Mr. McQuaid, your royal deanness, "There were these three guys who went to the ball park." Or was that hunting? Thanks for our "intellectual meathheads" conversations. Wick: You've got to find some gullible young lady, you're too tense. Mr. Champion: Thanks for all the frantic confusion. Foos: OK, so I can't sing. So what, the plays were a blast! Doc Stein: Captain Kangaroo lives! You're a genius, Doc, thanks for all! Sir: How's the Cavendish? Balle: How's you car? Steve Karras: Goin' to St. Copeias? Who am I? I'm John, John Cocktoastin. See you later bud, say hello to Sheldon for me. Jimmy K.: Bio-man and Captain Chem. will save the world; LFA is beyond help. How's George? "Hey Jim, don't play with that!" Unfair animal characteristics. Cayman: Hog, Stiss, ice, trips, rock, Sammy, Taybo, Neal, Abdul, Skip, Jimmy, Surf. Football '87, what a trip. Trips (E.S.) and Wats: "One toke over the line" everytime guys. Sawyer — President of the G.V.A. Me and the Hog — Executive V.P.s. Barrington Crew: J.S., C.C., L.C., J.H., S.S., N.M., B.F., J.S. — The only place to . . . uh . . . live? G.D. & A.K.: Halftime activities. Hey Geoff, let's part here! E.F.: Dave is just fine! C.P., J.D., B.D.: Now that's a trip, sing for us girls! Hanketta: How does it feel to be on top? H.F.: You little JAP, wazup baby, am I #1 yet? Jerry is God; John is the son; Matt is the ghost in the machine. Students take heart, throw your worries away. "There are many here among us who feel life is but a joke." But all is not perfect. "Every silver lining's got a touch of grey." With me, it's different. "I was born in the dust of history" To me, "Fate proved unkind, to lock a door and leave no key." So, fellow students, take my words and go forth into the world. And, if you're ever in Beantown, look me up.

Now that I have welcomed my sister to LFA I feel that I can leave — whenever you leave a place it's nice to leave something behind, "GOOD LUCK FER I LOVE YOU!" I will never leave behind my 4 yrs. of memories — Willis/when will it end? 2v's 4ever. Em-U have great aim when U throw McNuggets/Bubby. Muff UR my pillar in the temple of life I LUV U more than words can say. Missy, even when U left U were still 1 of the 3B's. Our friendship has weathered the worst of storms/URA closet case. Cooper, the Greenwoods R only a minor part of what was shared./O my God! House music 4ever/hello WISCO/Teleren, D^2/ñbhs could never B this much fun. Steph, who else would sit under a table and people watch w/ me? Lez B firends at WAGS! Will U hand me a cup please BLAH!/ The chicken is only 4 U and 4 Me! Maggie, we all change, "my brain hurts" Ed man, spare a dart? Florida romance! We have definitely read enough books! Karen, how much did we owe the backroom? We could always sit in the middle of Rush and look for SW. /4yrs. Wayward, V and I are the sole survivors, we have done it all and in only 4 short years/Dorma de Bats, JD, walking in the snow at PD van buddies 4 ever! We were strange, okle brath rules!/ Never forget prom!/ to read is to have fun, always to have fun! Wayward you helped me 2 discover what high school is all about (boys, books and weekends) I could not have done it w/out u/Mustard 4 ever! Oh-Scot I will never figure u out but its okay, lets keep somethings a mystery. 4yrs go by graduation came near, I remember, the good times I've had here — school was good weekends were great I'm in the class of '88 Lawrence remember that dancing is the key to happiness and that is they key to life — be good — we trained u well!/J.M. prom, thanx/s.b. my frosh love/Dooter his love. Were all shared to much, its time to move on — go our own ways only to be together again someday — Good Luck — we'all deserve.

These past four years have been quite an experience. LFA has been my home most of the year, and I have become very attached to the school, the students and the faculty. I'm going to miss all of you. There have been many good times and some bad, but there is no other place I would rather have spent these years. I have made several friends here who mean more to me than almost anything else. Johnny Ireland — You are the best friend anybody could have. If you ever need a job, I'm sure my father could arrange something for you. Matt Rogers — Thanks for being there when I needed you. Garrett — You have been a great roommate for the last two years. I'm really going to miss having a roommate with your taste in music. Each of you mean more to me than I let on. To everyone I haven't mentioned — each of you have touched my life in many different ways. I am going to miss each and every one of you. Since this is my goodbye, I would rather say it in a much more personal way than having it written in my quote. I will miss each and every person here. Good-bye, good luck, and remember . . .

It is not the critic who counts, nor where the strong man stumbles, nor where the doer of deeds could have done better. On the contrary, the credit belongs to the man who is actually in the arena — whose vision is marred by the dust, sweat, and blood; who strives vailiantly; who errs and comes up again and again; who knows the great devotions, the enthusiasms; who at best knows in the end the triumph of high achievement. However, if he fails, at least he fails while daring greatly, so that his place shall never be with those who know neither victory or defeat. Thank you mom and dad for letting me have the education that taught me this. I luv you! Judy — You have been my guiding light that never stopped shining, my structure when I thought I needed none, and most of all, the dearest friend that I could ever have. You have taught me to love, learn, and most of all live. You will always have a reserved place in my heart. I love you! There have been many people who have come, left, and stayed in my life during my time at LFA, and to you — People come into your life for a purpose, whether to lead you astray or steer you closer to your ultimate goal . . . You have made my journey a very, very interesting experience which I will never forget. May God walk with you, also . . . for he has been pedaling the whole time for me on my bicycle ride through life!

And, for one day, I'll wear my clothes for a change. M. Lewy, sorry for all the crap I gave you, but U R a JAP!!! I'm going to rob all the stuff on your walls. Matt — You give me the creeps when you look at me like that. Joe — It is more than $20! How do you think I pay for school? Mike C. — I'll save your cigarette butt for eternity. Sean — Why did U quit? We miss you! Katie — I won't use your cigarette to light another. Carolyn — How's Brad? Big time dork! Thanx for listening to all my troubles! I still wake up smiling. Take care of my room! Steve D — Pink Floyd and ketchup at Wendy's. You have to take your own tray up next year. Steve G. — Well, you lucked out! Only one year left. Let's play hockey someday. Jenny — Don't worry, you are almost out of here. Help Steve w/ the trays next year! I'll see you in my next life! Unless I see you sooner! John: U will probably never know the way I feel about you. I'll always remember Corbin and hanging around the Sr. lounge after dinner. Why didn't we drop out and move to Albuquerque? I would have gotten you your beer and TV!!! Oh well! Maybe next year. Alexis — there are times that you R 2 mean 2 me, but I still luv you. You and Cayman are the best! Let's go to the ruins B-4 volleyball. And Joe — you R a pervert. Anyone not here — too bad!!! LFA, what a wonderful and unforgetable highschool! The students here are active, passionate, friendly and united. The faculty is kind, patient and respectable. The relationship here between faculty and the students is a very special one, like the relationship between a child and there parent's. If a student has a problem they can freely express it. The studying atmosphere here is perfect. I don't feel that I'm studying at a school, but with a family! A huge family of brother's and sister's. I like it very much. Although I'm here for only a year, I've had a great experience. Mom and Dad, I know that you both are very worried about my life here in America, an entirely different culture and people. However I feel confident to say this year has been meaningful and my gain is much greater than my loss. Mr. Spoore, my advisor, Mrs. Borden you both always have tried to keep me up to date. Mr. Champion I remember you used up a whole class just to solve an equasion. What a serious man! Mr. Stein, you always gave us tricky problems on your tests, even on your homework. My teachers THANK YOU ALL VERY MUCH for having the patience to teach and guide me. Dickson, thanks for your help, you have lent me so many things. I don't know how or when I can repay you. Eric Trope from you, I learned how to solve the basic equasion. Davis Hsu and Maggie Li, I am very glad I met you both. My classmates, dormitory neighbors, roommate — (Sean Tucker), I'm happy to have you all as my friends. Finally, Good Luck — Good Health — God Bless You All! GO CAXY'S.

If the '87 Caxy football had a difficult legacy to live up to, the pressures put on the '87 tennis team were unimaginable. Until last year, the tennis team had been undefeated for three years running. But, at last, the unthinkable event had occurred — Chris Jones had graduated. But, even with this major setback, Coach Campbell had anticipated a good season. The possible line up was David Smith at first singles and Peter Baron at second. Well, we all know what happened to David. This was a major setback and, consequently, Peter Baron was moved up to first singles. Even with these deterrents in our path, we still managed to put together a good team. Peter played first singles, and Tony Gantus, a newcomer and subsequent all-conference selection, played second singles. Rob Reese was moved out of a hopeless doubles spot to third singles, and was also voted all-conference. The first doubles teams of Shawn Noroozi and Sung Soo Shin and the second doubles team of Chuck Shaw, Ken Johnston and Scott Carnow were also very strong. In the end, we took second place in the conference, and ended up with and 8-3 record. It was not a terrible disappointment, but was also not an undefeated season. We look forward to next year with hope for another good season.

JV Tennis

Mike Foss runs toward the ball

While JV Tennis Team last spring didn't win any trophies, no golden youths with tennis raquets frozen perpetually in mid-air, perpetually about to serve, legs forever footfaulting, we did have a good season.

Three out of the first four singles were freshmen and this vigorous new blood, as it were, bodes well for the future years. These were Chris Freeberg at #1, Bryan Lane — a really competitive player who was undefeated at #2, and Geoff Smart at #4. Other freshmen were Bill Brown and Jason Miller, both enthusiastic players. Other returning players were Mike Foss who played tenaciously at #3, Ari Good, Clint Cox, Mike Lin, and D.B. Suh. Upperclassmen new players included John Pelts, Chris Bartlett, Jason Beaubien, Scott Ward, John Clune and Alec Hopmayer. Robert Drake was absent from the picture. They were an enthusiastic group to work with.

Our record was 1 and 5. As usual, we played the large local public high schools, such as New Trier, and Stevenson who by their sheer numbers clearly have us outrationed. Yet our big win was with an overconfident New Trier who on the second match with us brought up a less experienced squad thinking they could win handily. But LFA showed them!!!

We had several styles of play, and doubles strategies that seemed to work. Clint Cox and Chris Bartlett would usually socialize the other team to death. Clint would serve and Chris would ask the most searching personal questions, until they practically forgot what sport they were playing. Scott Ward and John Pelts would wear tie-die shirts and bandanas with colors so swirling an exhausting the other team collapsed several times from equilibrium distortion.

It was a good season and I was happy with their progress.

The 1987 Baseball team had a very successful season, finishing with a final record of 7-5. Seniors Jamey Bretbeil and Jeff Waters led the team with 16 and 15 runs respectively. First baseman Waters also had the most RBI's for a total of 18. Matt Henkel led in home runs with 4 for the season. Among the top averages on the Caxy team were Breitbeil (.564), Waters (.533) and Henkel (.470). On the road entertainment was provided by manager Kate Lueder.

LFA Sportshorts:

Mr. Wick gave the team on the spot instruction in tire changing on the way back from from an away game in Racine.

Matt Henkel will be seen in the 1988 Summer Olympics in Korea as Captain of the United States Road Barrier Dragging Team.

And deep down — Dave, I love you too. — Kelly.

JV Baseball

The JV Baseball team had a very productive season despite finishing with a losing record. Mike Chen, Joe Schulenburg, and Perry Stoll all had strong performances this year. The majority of the offense, however, was provided by Yoshi Sugiyama, who had numerous home runs and many excellent defensive plays. The team was a cohesive unit that enjoyed working together and we hope that next year such outstanding individual efforts will translate into a winning record.

Katie DeBock

The 1987 JV Softball Team (1 and 5 thanks to a forfeit by Elgin) did not play especially well but did excell at stretching before practice each day. Abbey Chiles, Sarah Bouer, and Michelle Marsh were our pitchers and Joy Bass and Gwen Phan shared catching duties. Katie Norris played first base while Gail Deneberg, Monai Franks, and Clara Kwak took turns playing second base. Third base duties were covered by Hank Roztoczynska and Katie DeBock while Maggie Li was among those who played shortstop. Our merry band of outfielders included Angie Oehmke, Kathy Schecter, Susan Williams, and Regina Tessenyi-Wenner, and Hae Won Lee and Nell Bruen were our expert managers. The team worked hard, improved a lot, and many of its members will be ready for the varsity in a year or two.

Row 4 — Courtney Shaw, Renee Blahuta, Megan McGuire, Cynthia Lee, Lyssie Rowland.

Three years ago, Lake Forest Academy-Ferry Hall introduced soccer as a girls' sport. Coach Bill Andrews and a rag-tag group of girls got together and began to play soccer as a team. For the first couple of years the girls lost a couple of games, but this year the Caxy girls played like a winning team! Cynthia Lee, Sheila Swifts, Renee Blahuta, and Courtney Shaw countinuously broke down the opposition and scored goal after goal with the help of the midfielders, Karen Hoggins, Lyssie Rowland, Kathy Zygmun, and Dara Willis, who kept the games going offensively as well as defensively. However, when things came down to the wire, Jessica Spak, Muffin Gaffney, Holly Stegall, and Georgia Jones, came to life to protect the Caxy goal. If all else failed, Megan McGuire, the goalie, came through. This phenomial teamwork added up to produce the first (we hope!) of a long line of winning seasons.

Kathy Zygmun throws the ball back into play.

The boys' and girls' varsity track teams enjoyed their most successful seasons in recent years under the direction of head coach Ken Michelsen and assistant coaches Jim Quaid and Tom Elieff. Both teams captured their respective Independent School League championships with a 14-1 record for the boys and a 16-0 record for the girls. The teams' success stemmed from a tremendous depth in most events. They key seniors on the boys' team were Ed Schmatz, Rafael Perez, Jeff Stanley, Tim McGuire, Steve Fernbacker, Tom Erickson, Mike Rizzo, Keith Michelsen, and Steve Schoellhorn. The key underclassmen were Sean Bryan, Zaid Abdul-Aleem, Steve Belcaster, Jacob Barker, and Geoff Diehl. The key players on the girls' team were Renee Taylor, Jennifer Hamilton, Suzanne Wilson, Traci Flagg, Robin Speakes, Bridgett Nalls, Angie Smith, and Jenny Reese.

The legacy of the 1986 Caxy Football team is one that will live on forever in the minds of those players fortunate enough to have been a part of the team, and those fans who gave their support to a team that went 7-2 and took second place in the conference. With this success one can almost imagine the pressure that was put on the 1987 Caxys. Although our 4-4 record didn't quite compare to the 7-2 record of the previous year, we were in many ways better than the '86 team. We were a considerably smaller team, but, even so, we seemed to field more speed and talent. This talent yielded more all conference selections than last year: first team selections Erik "Trips" Sawyer, Jason "Jaybo" Beaubien, Zaid "Abdul" Abdul-Aleem, and Mark "Whatever" Stisser, and second team members Aaron "Boz II" Blackledge, Brian "Hog" Holway, Tyree "Chilly T" Thomas, Tim "Brown" Lowe. Considering the fact that nine of our twelve starters graduated last year, we fared quite well, with a new quarterback and offensive line. Our depth and our conditioning (ha!) proved to be valuable assets. The games we won, we won well. The games we lost, we lost by a small margin. On behalf of the graduating seniors and returning players, I would like to offer the following message to Coach Michelsen:

Dear Coach:

We accept the fact that we had a tremendous reputation to live up to, but we think you were asking a bit much to have expected us to surpass last year's team. We are what we are — new faces, new goals, and a different team. We had our ups and we had our downs, but we were certainly never a disappointment. We won some thrillers, and we lost some heartbreakers. More importantly, for each game we played our best. Each of us is an athlete and a competitor in our own right. So, from the departing seniors: Good Luck. We thank you for all you have done for us, both individually, and as a team.

Sincerely,
Football '87

Goalie Jason Miller defends goal.

Although the 1987 Caxy Soccer Team, under the direction of new coach Jamie Canfield, had a bad season they did manage to find and remove all the goose droppings on the soccer field. Alon Kim, the team captain, led the team on to its many losses. The Caxy offense concentrated on two facets. Dickson Liu would talk the opposing fullbacks to sleep, and, while they were not paying attention, Hatem would run past them and score. While Mike Lavista, forward, did not score many goals, he does play the guitar well. And, of course, if the opponent managed to get by our invincible offense, gigantic Jason Miller, our biggest player, easily blocked the ball's entrance to the goal. The team, though bizarre, has great hopes for the future, and shows great potential for future goose-dropping removal.

The Junior Varsity soccer team, led by captains Chris Freeburg and David McNaughton, had a commendable season. Crucial players to the team were stopper Yoshi Sugiyama and center forward Sean Moran. Yoshi with his ability to kick from half field to goal, served as the key to the Caxy defense. Sean Moran and his excellent conditioning enabled him to run hard throughout the game. These abilities, and those of others enabled the team to play with great teamwork, even when they lost.

The 1987 Girls' Tennis team had an excellent season this year, winning the majority of their matches. This gave them a good chance for the Independent School League championship. Coach Campbell's most dedicated players were Elena Adell, Michelle Marsh, Laurie Cooper, and Stephanie Vernon. He was pleased with the freshman turnout this year and hopes that future teams will be strong as a result. The strongest Caxy rivals this year were Woodlands Academy and University High. Mr. Campbell was concerned with a lack of team motivation, but despite this minor setback, the 1987 Girls' Tennis team had a fantastic season.

Cross Country

Both girls and boys cross-country teams posted winning seasons; the boys team placed second in the ISL standings while the girls team went undefeated in league competition. A sparkling feature was added to the 1987 cross-country season when the team participated in the State Meet Qualifying Regionals.

Sean Bryan was the Caxys' front-runner all season long, going undefeated in dual meet competition and racing to personal bests in the invitationals. Senior Jacob Barker was a strong number two man, followed by a pack of Caxy harriers who jockeyed for the remaining point positions — Jeremy Hedge, Humberto Muniz, Jason Trope, Brad Banta, and captain Marcelo Yamamoto. The final dual meet of the season, against Latin in Lincoln Park, would have garnered the championship for the Caxys had they been victorious, but Marcelo Yamamoto's untimely illness weakened the team's showing. Nevertheless, the Caxys entered post-season competition for the first time in several years, and ace runner Sean Bryan advanced to State Sectional competition. Sean came close to being the first "modern" Caxy ever to compete in a state cross-country championship, but sickness forced him to pull up short in that race.

Led by Jennie Reese, who went undefeated in regular season competition and placed second at the Prairie Invitational, the girls sailed smoothly through their undefeated season. A tough, talented bunch of runners, including Priy Sinha, Cary Seston, Leyana Crumpton, and Jennifer Hamilton, outclassed the competition, often taking the top five spots.

As is peculiar to the sport, the cross-country season was not without its mishaps. One such faux pas occured at the University School of Milwaukee Invitational. Bryan and Barker led the large pack of runners through the first mile of the race, but a wrong turn on the soggy, crudely-marked course spelled disaster for the Caxys. Though both runners ran farther than the official three mile distance, meet officials disqualified the two, and the Caxy team wound up in second place.

With further expansion of LFA's athletic fields underway, and with the addition of a pair of inviting and spectacular hills, thanks to the Conway Farms construction project, next year's Caxy running course should be as challenging and exciting as any in the area. The Caxys will miss the fine contributions of Marcelo Yamamoto, Jacob Barker, and Jennie Reese, but there is still a fine nucleus on which to build. LFA can expect to continue fielding strong cross-country teams, although there is always room for some eager, if not talented newcomers.

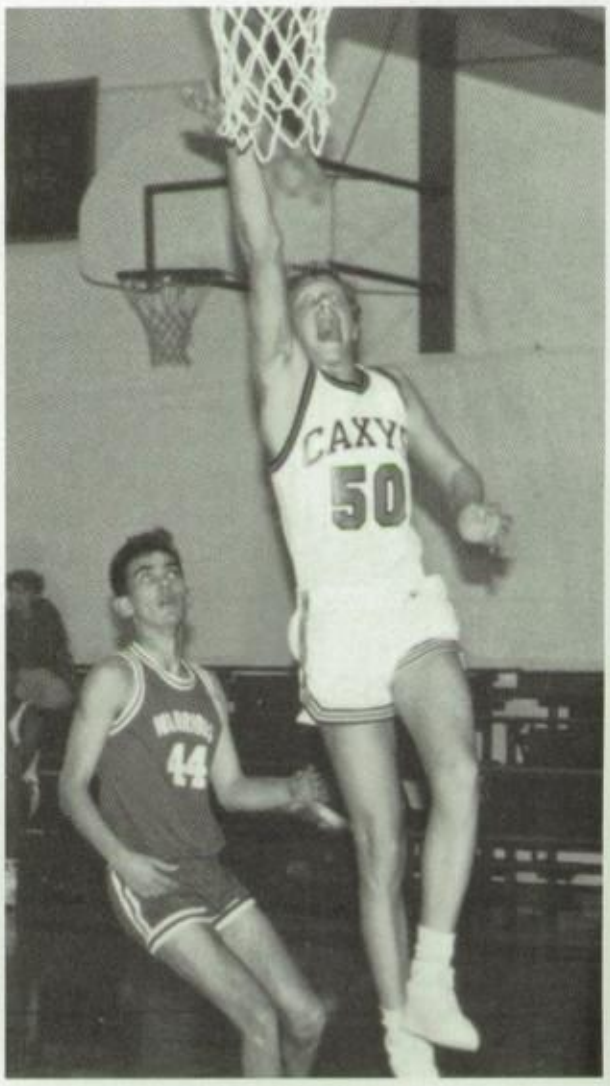
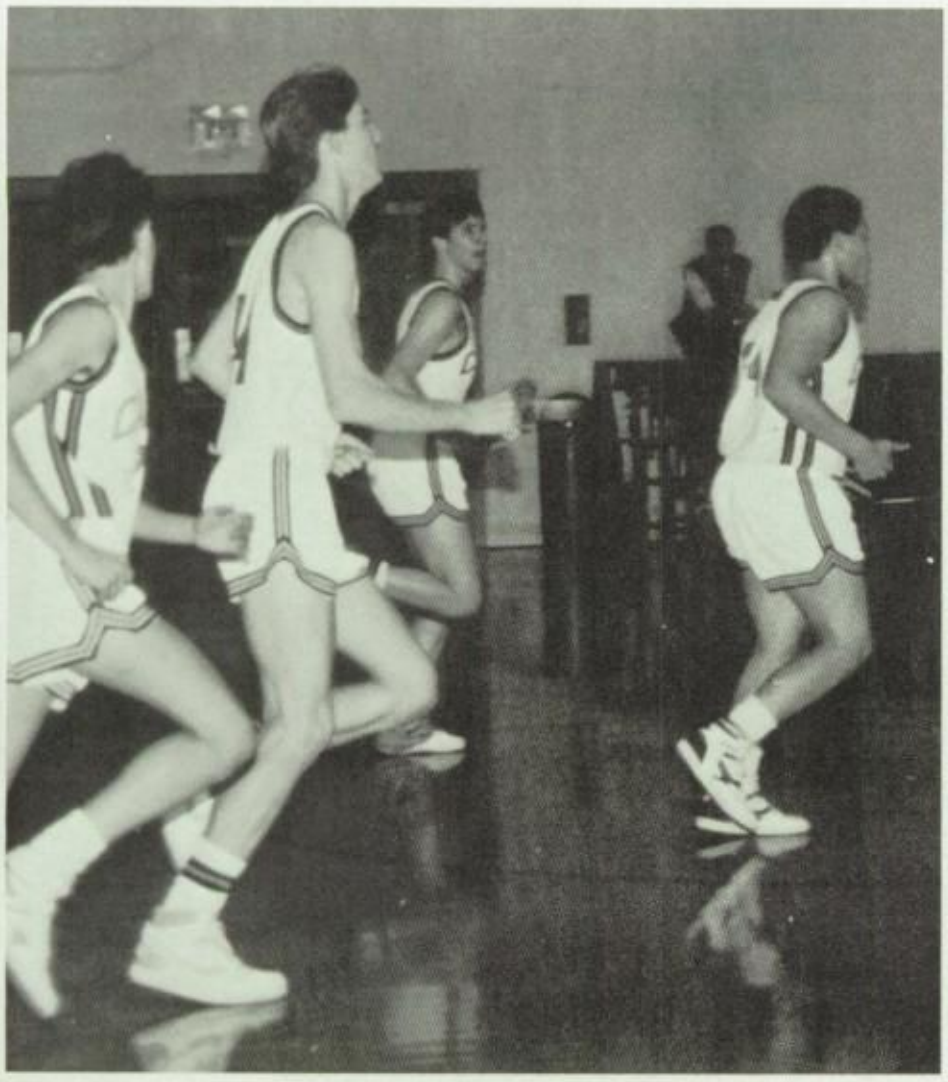
The 1987 Varsity Basketball Team had a rough season due to the many new players with little experience. With the exception of senior Tim Lowe, all the players were new to the Varsity team. Under the direction of Head Coach Ken Kurtz the boys played 4 months of very competitive basketball. On both offense and defense the Stisser duo contributed greatly, with Eric at guard and Mark at forward. Other new talent included David McNaughton, Mike LaVista, Clint Cox and Tim Seston. With Tim Lowe being the only senior, the team for next year looks very promising.



Junior Tim Seston

JV Boys' Basketball



The Caxys on a fastbreak.

"This is a learning team," said Junior Varsity Coach Marty Balle. "This is the first time most of the boys have played, but they are holding up their skills." The highlight of the team was a victory of 42-18 over arch-rivals North Shore Country Day. Key players on the team include David McNaughton, Chris Freeburg, Tyler Colman, and Brad Whitehouse.

Swimming

Under a new coach, Mr. Ryan, the 1987-1988 Caxy swimming team began its season with a victory over St. John's Military Academy. Maeve Callan took first place in the 100 backstroke, and Navid Sadiq also placed first in to 100 butterfly. The team's final record was 5-3. The team's final victory came over Wayland Academy, in a dramatic upset. The team had beaten the Caxys twice previously.

At the start of the year, the team was faced with an immense reputation to live up to. Many of last year's star swimmers had left the team, leaving the academy with a relatively inexperienced group of new swimmers. Still, Coach Ryan, a new addition to The Academy, was very happy with the team's progress. Said Ryan of the swimmers: "They are a lot of fun to work with, but they also know that they will have to work very hard to succeed." Mr. Ryan feels that his swimmers have progressed greatly since the start of the year, and has great hopes for the next season.

Wrestling

This year the Caxy Wrestling team had a difficult season. Their record was 0-7-1. This was due to a small squad, inexperience, and rough competition. Although the team loses Renee Taylor and Brian Hutchinson to college, good things can be expected from the remaining players next year. This year was truely a building season.

Winding up for a slapshot

The LFA Girls' Ice Hockey team, in just its second season, is warranting respect. Under the direction of their new Coach Sandy Buzby, the team worked very hard, and even got up at 5 a.m. to practice! The team's captains, seniors Jenny Davis and Muffin Gaffney lead the team to a 2-0 team record against the LFA Tripods. The highlight of the season was the trip to Detroit for a tournament in February to play against other regional teams.

With the addition of the Caxydome to Lake Forest Academy's athletic facility, the 1988 Boys' Ice Hockey Team had a good season despite the fact that Coach Edgecomb usually had a limited number of eligible players. This was not only due to a small team to begin with, but because of the suspensions of some of the team's starting players. The slow, but commendable improvement of newcomers to the team may have also hindered the team's progress, for there were only two main front lines utilized. Despite these hardships the team nearly had equal numbers of wins and loses due to the hard work of the team's key players, seniors Mike Cupic and George Nestorvich, and sophomore Stefan Switzer.

Varsity Girls' Basketball

The 1988 Lady Caxys had a season with a lot of ups and downs. Highlights of the season included the 2 games against Francis Parker, and the league regional game played against Alvernia High School. The Lady Caxys were victorious in each game against Parker: in the first one, winning by 2 points in overtime, with Laurie Cooper scoring the winning basket with 2 seconds to play — and in the second winnng by 3. 1988 was the first year the Lady Caxys played in regional competition. After leading in the game for 3 quarters, they suffered a disappointing loss to Alvernia. With first year Coach Jeaney Dupras, Senior Co-Captains Megan McGuire and Emilie Franz led the team through a very positive season. Though they didn't win as many games as they had hoped to, they all had a lot of fun especially on sing-along van rides to away games.

Christie - You left me no place to write! I can't tell you how glad I am that we became such good friends. You are very special to me & you have helped me through a lot. Especially with Sean. I wish you and Vince could go an entire day without fighting! (Just kidding) Hold on to him he is really neat & thanx for always being there when I needed a friend. I'll never forget all our talks, our laughs, crys, and good times. I hope we don't lose our friendship. I really want to see you over the summer. You can come to my house & we'll PARTY! What else do we do? Thanx for all the food too. Softball was fun until about until only the be sun not!! I love Jen W.

P.S. Nothing is going on w/ Kim anymore but I LUV HIM ALOT!

Christie,

There is so much to say, I really don't know where to start. Well I guess I could start about 8 months ago when it happened. It was just that "kiss" that made me fall in love with you. But seriously I'm really not sure why or how it happened, I just know I am the happiest I have ever been. I guess the things that just happens are the ones that are great! My relationship with you has proved that. Though it was hard for me to hold on during that circle, I am soooo glad I did! You are a very special person to me. I have never pictured myself to be as happy as I am now, and I wouldn't have it any other way than with you. This summer will be awesome. We will be able to Spend more time together, I just can't seem to get enough of you. You are always on my mind, I want to be with Christie, and of Course Tab. I don't think Taboo loves me, she is never wet. (Ha! Ha!) Ya, well we will have to work on our sex life. I'm sure summer will provide us with enough time to do that. I'm happy that we are going to have Summer, you are a lucky girl to be able to spend every day with me. I know I will enjoy it, but I just don't think it will be enough. Don't worry about College, we will figure Some thing out. Your Mazada (Is it Spelled Right) will have a lot of miles, but it will be worth it. We can't think about College now, we have all summer. I Love you, so we have to work something out

I know this is shorter than what you wrote me but I have nothing else to say except I love You, and I am happy that we happened You have made me a happier person and I am very much in love with you.

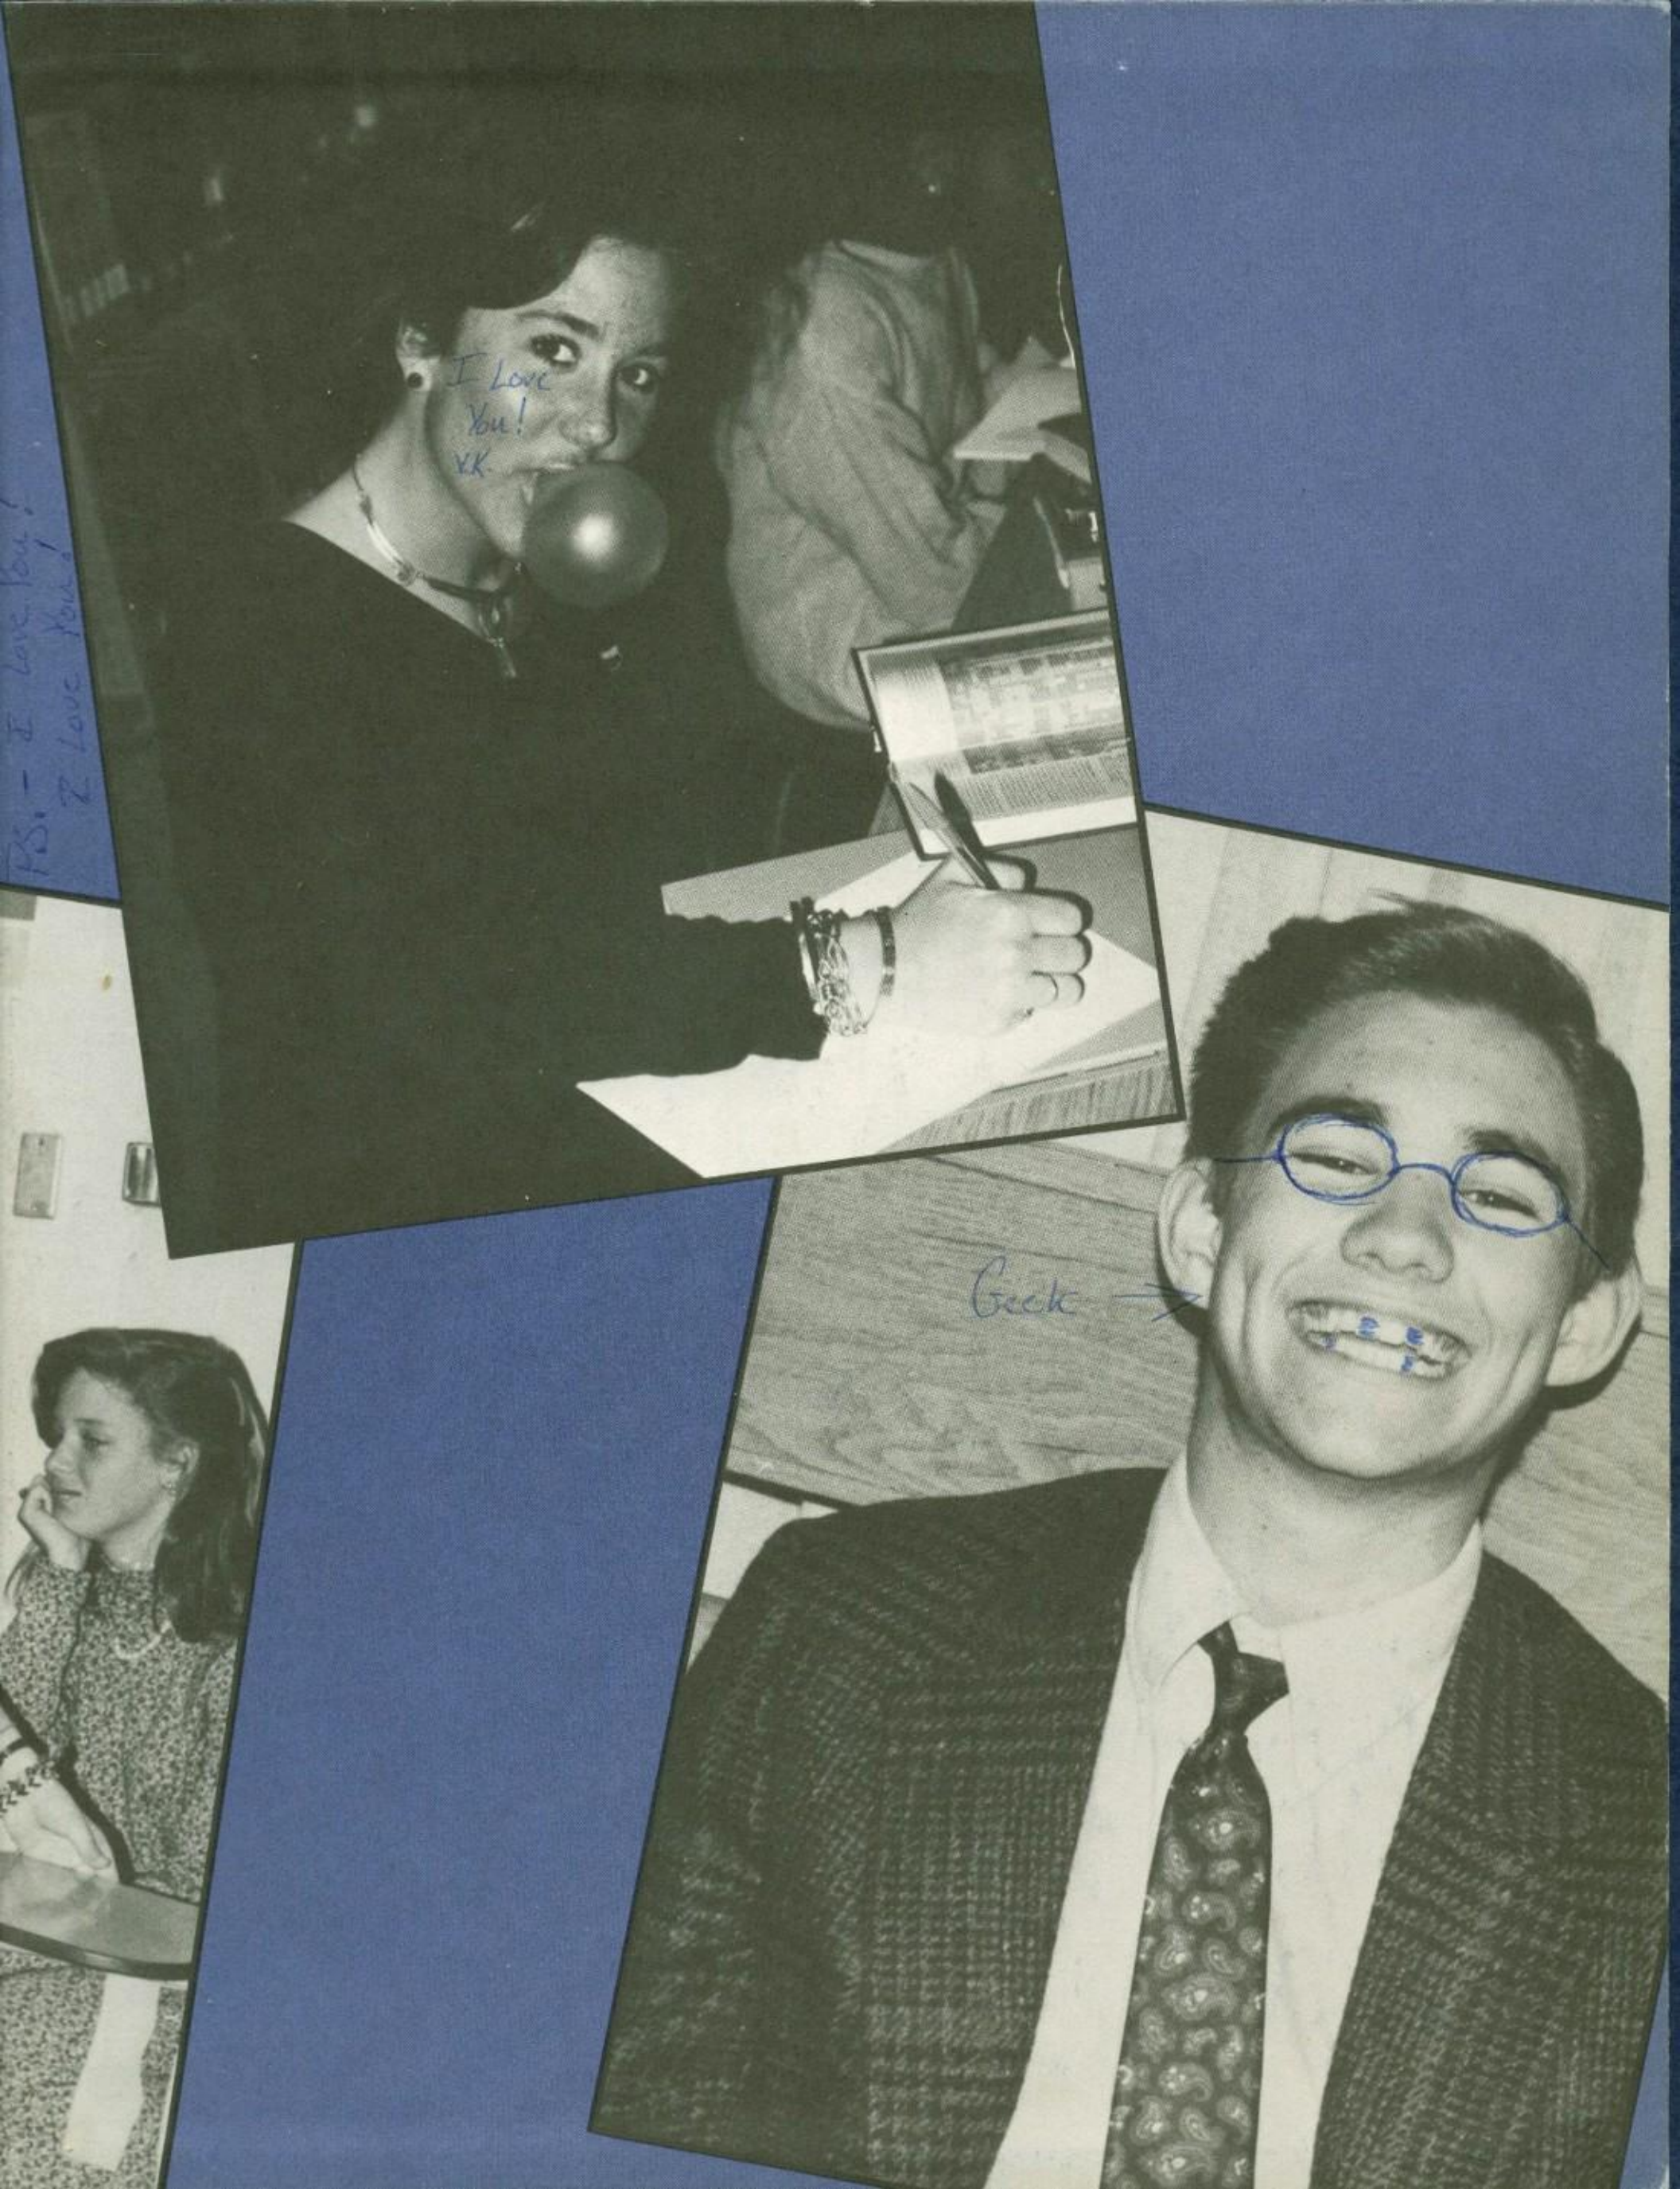
I Love You Lots,

Vince

(& Squirt)

Christie

What can I say? This is definitely not the end. Don't forget July - lots of good times ahead. Remember Florida, Safari Steve, Tanning Beds, Cocktails, Jenny + the brakes, Gyros, Frozen yogurt (yuck), suitcases in the trunk, times around the pool... nice goggles, Sarasota + the boys, the mortician student, Bea Casini, Videos, and our skinny thighs. The best of luck in school, I'm really going to miss you. I promise we'll take Florida next vacation, Europe next summer. Love you guys like crazy. Denise



I Love You!
V.K.
P.S. - I Love You!
I Love You!
